ILST

ILST providers conduct a comprehensive functional assessment of the participant, identifying the participant's strengths and weaknesses in performing Activities of Daily Living (ADL) related to his/her established goals. ILST services are designed to improve the ability of the participant to live as independently as possible in the community and can provide training in specific areas, including but not limited to: budgeting finances, medication management, cooking, travel-training, meal planning, organization, supporting vocational or educational goals.

PBIS

PBIS services are available to all participants experiencing significant behavioral difficulties that jeopardize their ability to remain safe in the community. After a brain injury, it is common for individuals to notice a change in the way they respond to stressors in their environment. Common behaviors after TBI include sudden mood fluctuations, difficulty controlling anger, isolating from family and friends, increased impulsivity, challenges adapting to new environments, elopement, lack of motivation or initiation, lethargy, lack of follow through, and poor concentration.

HCSS

HCSS services provide oversight and/or supervision needed in order to keep the individual safe at home and in the community. HCSS also provides assistance or supervision with Activities of Daily Living (ADL) or Instrumental Activities of Daily Living (IADL).

SDP

SDP provides individuals with the opportunity to improve social and cognitive skills in a supportive environment. Taking place Monday through Friday from 9am to 3pm, SDP offers a variety of different classes to meet the varying needs of individuals. Individuals have the opportunity to attend 1-5 days per week for full or half days. The classes offered at RES include, but are not limited to, art therapy classes, cognitive rehabilitation classes, discussion groups, physical education classes, computer classes, and much more. Please contact the RES Intake Department to schedule a tour and/or a trial day and receive a copy of the current semester's schedule. SDP also includes a variety of special events that provide individuals with increased opportunities to socialize with peers and build a strong support network.

E-Mods

E-Mods include both internal and external adaptations to the home that are necessary in order for the individual to live safely in the community. E-Mods allow individuals to function with increased independence and help to ensure health and welfare by making necessary modifications to the individual's home.

CTS

CTS services are available to individuals transitioning from a nursing home back into the community. CTS assists individuals with the cost of moving, essential furnishing, deposits for utilities, and rental deposits.
